This Certificate program achieves the goal of integrating current mental health approaches to health and wellness, using the internationally recognized Virginia Satir's Process for Helping Individuals and Families Change with Energy Therapy.

Integrative Health defined by the World Health Organization in 2008 definition is used for this educational program. Integrative Health involves bringing conventional and complementary approaches together in a coordinated way as defined by the National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health (NCCIH) the US Federal Government's lead agency for scientific research in these areas.

Energy Therapy is defined by the National Cancer Institute at the National Institute of Health, USA. I quote: Energy Therapy is a form of complementary and alternative medicine based on the belief that a vital energy flows through the human body. The goal of energy therapy is to balance the energy flow in the patient. It is used to reduce stress and anxiety and promote well-being. Currently Energy Therapy is being studied in patients receiving cancer therapy, to find out if it can improve the quality of life, boost the immune system, or reduce side effects. It is also called Energy Healing.

Faculty

Mary Jo Bulbrook, EdD, CEMP/S/I, HTCP

Dr. Bulbrook is a master psychotherapist and family therapist, spiritual/medical intuitive, energy healer and teacher with thirty-six years' experience teaching Integrative Health and holistic healing. She has taught workshops in Peru, Chile, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and throughout the USA.

Her grounded theory approach to research in partnership with traditional healers from South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Peru has enriched our understanding of the healing process. Through developed intuitive insight, Mary Jo has been able to communicate across time dimensions including before and after death. Her experience with the death process started in 1976 when she helped launch Hospice of Salt Lake and served as the first Director of Training. She has taught mental health professionals from psychiatrist to psychologists, social workers, coaches, psychiatric nurses in multiple countries including multiple universities in 7 countries. Dr. Bulbrook's abilities of Higher Sense Perception developed over time as she went around the world teaching, practicing, and researching was to help people grow and change. Virginia "style" of healing permeated her work.

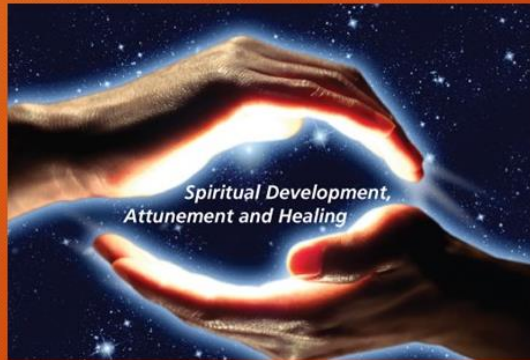

Virginia Satir (1916-1988)

The late Virginia Satir was a pioneer in the development of family therapy. During her lifetime, she created a dynamic model to help people change and grow. She was identified as a communication theorist, although in identifying herself she would say her mission was to help people build their self-esteem. Through a simple, dynamic process, she developed an effective model to help people grow and change. Her goal was to help people feel better about themselves and be effective in communicating with others. Based on her experience of helping people for several decades, the model called the "whole person learning for becoming more fully human" has been enriched to include energy therapy / healing.

Experience the blending of the work of these two masters to bring about growth and change.

"When the student is ready the teacher appears."

Tibetan Proverb

In many ways my daughter Courtney was like the tiny honeybee. The bee doesn't know logically it shouldn't be able to fly, but it flies anyway. Courtney did fly far beyond anyone's expectations for a non-verbal child, in a wheelchair because of cerebral palsy. In our newsletter, Buzz from the hive, I hope to share with you many things I learned from this special teacher—sent to me 30 years ago. Our goal is to help you obtain proper support to help your child also spread their wings and soar to their fullest potential.
